Industry week proclaimed by Lincoln Mayor Malerich

Mayor Edward Malerich has proclaimed Oct. 1-7 as industry week in the city of Lincoln. The Greater Lincoln Area Chamber of Commerce industrial committee, headed by Gene Wilson, is sponsoring a series of events to alert the citizens of the important role the manufacturers play in the economical well-being of the city. One of the highlights of the week's events will be a luncheon Wednesday at the Tropics to salute industry. The guest speaker at the special luncheon will be Billie Ann Phillips, Superintendent of Labor Law Enforcement for the State of Illinois, representing Governor James Thompson's office. Her speech will cover labor in general, but the key issues will be unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation. Co-chairmen for the festivities are Ken Divis, Pierce Glass and Bill Wilson, Councilman, both members of Gene Wilson's Industrial Commission. Wilson has been meeting twice throughout 1978 to improve industrial position for the city to lobby for legislation to improve the climate for business in the state and in the Lincolnland area.
