Bradford, Jefferson guilty to three

BY PAT KIRBY

Albert Bradford and Allen Charles Jefferson, both of the Chicago area, pleaded guilty to armed robbery, armed violence and rape charges in plea agreements Monday afternoon in Judge John T. McCullough's court.

The two were arrested and charged near Troy at 2:37 a.m. Oct. 15 following an incident which began the day before in Chicago. According to State's Attorney Roger Thompson, the two men abducted two women at gun point and forced them to drive toward St. Louis. Thompson's statement said the women were able to free themselves at the Logan - Sangamon county lines and seek help. The men were stopped, driving one of the women's car, by State Police and Madison County Sheriff's department personnel.

Both Bradford and Jefferson will be sentenced in a Feb. 6 hearing at 10 a.m. in Judge McCullough's court. Bradford will be sentenced on two charges of armed violence and one charge of armed robbery. Jefferson's hearing will be on two charges of armed violence and one charge of rape. In the plea agreement, several other charges including aggravated kidnapping, rape and armed robbery, were dropped.

Both men had pleaded not guilty Oct. 24 to the charges for which they will be sentenced. The men changed their pleas as a part of the pre-sentencing agreement.
