Attend meeting

Dorothy and Joe Morrow, of Joe's Auto Air Conditioning, 225 S. Logan, Lincoln, recently attended an A.R.A. meeting in Dallas, Texas where A.R.A. purchased Motorola.

A.R.A. announced it had purchased the assets of the Aftermarket Sound Products division of Motorola, a company known for its excellence in sound products. The marketing approach is to maintain the two distribution systems as separate entities. Additionally, the Motorola product line is to be expanded and the Motorola marketing programs will be revitalized.

The Motorola name is well known to the consumer at the car dealer level, having been first to introduce the automobile radio over 50 years ago. Thus, when combining the Motorola name with A.R.A.'s product integrity, marketing expertise, support programs, and quality control, Joe's Auto Air Conditioning should be able to maximize market penetration and assure a success story so great it is hard to imagine.

Today in history

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Dec. 18, the 353rd day of 1980. There are 13 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On Dec. 18, 1865, slavery was abolished in the United States with the adoption of the 13th amendment to the Constitution.

On this date:

In 1777, George Washington's army went into winter quarters at Valley Forge in Pennsylvania.

In 1787, New Jersey became the third state to ratify the U.S. Constitution.

In 1927, Chiang Kai-shek overthrew the Hankow government in China.

In 1972, the U.S. Supreme Court ended compulsory chapel attendance at government military academies.

Ten years ago: A law permitting divorce went into effect in Italy, despite opposition by the Roman Catholic church.

Five years ago: The United States, Israel and 11 other nations withdrew from a meeting of UNESCO in Paris because of a dispute over Zionism.

One year ago: Gunmen on motorcycles at Tehran University assassinated a leading member of the Ayatollah Khomeini's regime.

Today's birthdays: Former Attorney General Ramsey Clark is 53. Theatrical producer Abe Burrows is 70. Keith Richards, lead guitarist of The Rolling Stones, is 37.
