Board of Trade opening

CHICAGO — Grain and soybean futures early today on the Chicago Board of Trade gave back the sharp gains made a day earlier as weather forecasts again for the better.

Futures prices have been locked in a struggle in recent weeks over conflicting views of this month's weather outlook.

Sustained hot, dry weather in the key Midwest growing states of Illinois, Indiana and Iowa could be devastating to the crops as they undergo the crucial pollination and flowering periods. But mild weather, or brief bursts of heat, could prove beneficial and allow farmers to meet government expectations for bumper corn and soybean harvests.

With government and private forecasters changing their views almost daily, prices have been extremely volatile.

Wall Street at noon

NEW YORK — Stocks rose modestly this morning amid reports that Japan's leaders plan to propose sweeping tax cuts to stimulate the sputtering Japanese economy.

At noon on Wall Street, the Dow Jones industrial average was up 63.52 at 9,015.54, struggling to sustain a move above 9,000 after falling in each of the past four sessions.

Broader indicators also rose this morning, lifting the S&P 500 back into record terrain after a one-day stumble.

Before today's open, Tokyo share prices rallied 3.4 percent as a leading newspaper reported that Prime Minister Ryutaro Hashimoto plans to introduce permanent income and residential tax cuts of up to 4 trillion yen, or about $29 billion, next year.

The Standard & Poor's 500 Index was up 6.81 at 1,140.65, flirting with Monday's closing high of 1,138.81.

The red-hot Nasdaq composite index was up 1.70 at 1,896.44. The technology-heavy

COPLEY NEWS SERVICE

AURORA — More than 180 residents of the Countryside Care Centre nursing home were evacuated Sunday afternoon after a small fire sent smoke pouring through the building.

The Aurora Fire Department was called to the facility at 2330 W. Galena Blvd. at 4:18 p.m. by an automatic fire alarm, according to Assistant Chief Garv Firefighters believe equipment being used by roofers overheated and ignited a patch of insulation. Although the fire was small, it created a lot of smoke, Strong said.

"There was nobody injured, but probably some anxiety," Strong said.

Residents sat outside the front and side entrances to the nursing home, while Countryside was out of the building.

Members of the police and fire department handed out orange juice and water to the residents. Nursing home staff aided families in comforting their loved ones, many of whom seemed overwhelmed by the event.

Residents on the nursing home's upper floors were taken by bus to Wood Glen Nursing & Rehabilitation Center to spend the night there and probably return to Countryside today.

The residents from the first floor were able to spend the night in their own beds.

Margie Runquist's mother is one of the residents who lives on the first floor of the nursing home. She has lived at Countryside for about a month.

Park ads fails to mention coaster isn't finished

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
EAST DUNDEE — The second summer of television commercials featuring the new roller coaster at Santa's Village still leaves out a key detail: The ride isn't open yet.
 The Typhoon was scheduled to open last summer but didn't because of construction snafus.
 This year, Santa's Village officials planned to have the 63-foot-high ride open by July 4, but large sections are not yet done.
 "I wanted to ride it last summer and couldn't, and I thought for sure they would have the thing done this summer," Travis Saumer, 13, of Crystal Lake said Sunday after visiting the amusement park.
 "I think it stinks that it isn't open."
 His mother said it is wrong for the park's television commercials, shown in the Chicago area, to show the coaster for the second consecutive summer.
 "I don't think it's right to talk about this ride on TV and then have people come here and find out it isn't built yet," Allison Saumer said. "I don't think those commercials should be running."
 But park spokesman Grant Dahlke said the company can't afford to make a new commercial and canceling the ads would be "astronomical."

Dahlke blamed the Italian manufacturer of the Typhoon for the delay.
 "The manufacturers were a week late sending us the parts, and they sat in customs for a week," Dahlke said. "We can appreciate the public's frustration with this, but we're not the ones to blame."
 Last summer, the $1.5 million roller coaster was running in early July, but park officials said it needed more fine-tuning.
 Later in the month, they determined it was too jarring for children, and part of the ride was disassembled.

Illinois resident gets life behind bars for breaking vital levee
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
HANNIBAL, Mo. — A Fowler, Ill., man has been sentenced to life in prison for intentionally breaking a vital northeast Missouri levee at the height of disastrous flooding in 1993.
 James Scott, 29, was sentenced on Monday for causing a catastrophe by breaking West Quincy levee along the Mississippi River, flooding 14,400 acres of farmland and destroying hundreds of buildings.
 The life sentence was handed down by Judge Robert Clayton II in Circuit Court at the Marion County Courthouse. Scott received the same sentence in 1994 when he was first convicted of the crime. But an appeals court overturned the verdict last year.
 A jury needed less than three hours to recon-vict Scott on April 30.
 Scott's sentence is to be served consecutively with a sentence he was already serving in Illinois for a burglary conviction.

Boy, 16, admits he killed Gibson City man in scheme with wife

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PAXTON — A 16-year-old boy has pleaded guilty to killing a Gibson City man at the urging of the man's estranged wife and her boyfriend.

Anthony Jennings of Strawn faces 20 years to life in prison when he is sentenced Aug. 28 in Ford County Circuit Court. He pleaded guilty to first-degree murder Tuesday in the Feb. 16 death of Craig Little, 27, at Little's home.

Angela Little wanted her husband dead because she didn't want the hassle of a contested divorce and wanted the $92,000 from his insurance policy, according to reports compiled by police investigating Little's murder.

So Mrs. Little enlisted the help of her boyfriend, Carl Dueringer, and Jennings to kill Little, police said.

Senate passes bill

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — Student loan interest rates would fall to their lowest levels in nearly two decades and needy students would benefit from increases in federal education grants under legislation adopted by the Senate.

"This bill will help ensure that our nation remains a leader in educational excellence for all of our citizens," said Sen. Jim Jeffords, R-Vt., chairman of the Senate Labor and Human Resources Committee.

"Our goal in this bill is to strengthen federal support for

Board of Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain and soybean futures fell sharply early today on the Chicago Board of Trade after the government reported farmers still are on track for bumper harvests.

To the surprise of some market participants, the U.S. Agriculture Department's report for expected production remained high given drought in Texas and parts of the Southeast and growing problems in California.

Corn yields were estimated at 129.6 bushels an acre, with production at 9.625 billion bushels. Soybean yields were pegged at 39.5 bushels per acre, with production at 2.83 billion bushels.

The agency also predicted record yields for the wheat crop, a problem given weak export demand brought on by the Asian economic crisis and large crops elsewhere.

Wheat for December delivery fell 6 1/4 cents to $2.88 1/2 a bushel; December corn fell 9 1/4 cent to $2.40 a bushel; December oats fell 3 1/2 cents to $1.31 1/4 a bushel; November soybeans fell 1 1/2 cents to $5.97 a bushel.

Live cattle and pork futures were mostly lower on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange.

held in Springfield before that. Estimates of its economic impact range from $3 million to $15 million a year, Edgar said. "That was one of my concerns," he said. "We are very hopeful we will be able to see other shows come to Du Quoin."

That could include other shows by the same company that promotes the Street Machine Nationals, Edgar said. The state and the company, Indianapolis-based The Promotion Co., parted on good terms, Edgar said.

Du Quoin resident Rex Duncan said the show brings little economic benefit to Du Quoin itself. Townspeople stay home, local businesses close up and visitors go to restaurants and hotels elsewhere, he said.

"I think there's a feeling, maybe, that we've gotten our town back," he said.

Police and residents blame the thousands of fans who cruise the streets in their own cars or watch from the roadside.

State police say 508 people were arrested or issued tickets during this year's event, June 13-14, on charges ranging from failure to wear seat belts to public indecency, illegal alcohol consumption or drugs. That was up from 399 arrests in 1997.

Company spokeswoman Susan Davis said the company hopes to bring a new show, with a different type of audience, back to Du Quoin.

"Of course we regret having to leave a beautiful facility like the Du Quoin State Fairgrounds," she said. "We just agreed it was best for everybody."

Ludolph said the officers pursued the youths.

"One officer chased down one of the suspects and had to tackle him. The two other (suspects) were hiding and had to be located by the officers searching the area," he said.

The teens were arrested in the 600 block of Decatur Street.

"Due to the officers being alert and checking out the area thoroughly, they located all three juveniles," said Ludolph.

Ludolph estimated the value of the damaged vehicles and stolen merchandise to be several thousand dollars. However, reports of damage and thefts are still coming in, so a final value can't be determined.

So far, six or seven people have reported burglarized vehicles.

The youths — two from Lincoln and one from Hartsburg — allegedly smashed vehicle windows and stole stereos, speakers, compact disks and tapes. The whole radio component in the dashboard of one vehicle was reportedly torn out.

Ludolph said this sort of burglary arrest is not common and, in this case, is due to the efforts of the police officers.

"Catching burglars in the act is a very rare thing and this is all due to officers doing good police work," he said. "It was fortunate we were in the area at the time (the youths) were in the area."

The juveniles are being held in the Logan County Safety Complex pending a court appearance.

attitude when the Chestnut rescue vehicle was taken to stand by at the July 4 fireworks display in Mount Pulaski.

The trustees Tuesday tabled a decision to bring the Chestnut EMS into the Mount Pulaski district and told the Karricks that department funds are for fire service, not to pay emergency services costs.

"The trustees, I'm sorry to say, are dragging their feet, skirting the issue," Karrick said. "The city or district should say yes or no to EMS."

Mount Pulaski emergency services ended May 31. The Chestnut, Elkhart, Latham and Lincoln Rural rescue squads have provided emergency services in Mount Pulaski. A Mount Pulaski emergency services vehicle is parked at the station, but is no longer used.

Karrick said annual insurance costs for Chestnut EMS to operate separate from the Mount Pulaski fire protection district are about four times what they would be as part of the district.

36 Peoria stores sold booze to minors

COPLEY NEWS SERVICE

PEORIA — Thirty-six Peoria businesses received tickets from police Friday as a reminder not to sell alcohol to teen-agers. One store had to be reminded twice.

As part of a police sting using underage interns, a convenience store clerk allegedly sold beer to an intern about one hour after being ticketed for selling a six-pack to another intern, Peoria police reports said.

Fadi B. Rustom, 19, of Washington was cited twice on charges of selling alcohol to an underage person after selling beer at the Convenient Food Mart, 841 W. Main St., at 4:29 p.m. and again at 5:32 p.m., police reports said.

Police issued tickets to Rustom directly after each sale, according to reports.

The store was also cited for employing an underage person to sell liquor.

Peoria City police sent interns from Illinois Central College into 63 businesses between 2 and 8:30 p.m. Friday, issuing 38 ordinance violation citations to 36 businesses, reports said.

The targets included taverns, package liquor stores and grocery stores that sell alcohol, said police Sgt. Henry Minton.

Of the 36 businesses cited, seven had employees who asked the teen-agers for identification and still sold them alcohol, despite ID cards that showed their birth dates and that were stamped "under 21" prominently, reports said.

The heat index (how warm it "feels") could exceed 105.

The weather service issues heat advisories when heat indexes are 105 or more, Britt said.

"Take it real easy. Limit your time outdoors. Stay in air conditioning. People should check on sick and elderly that live alone," he said.

Britt was guarded in his optimism that next week's heat wave will be short.

"Right now, in the extended forecasts (30 to 60 days), conditions are forecast to be closer to near normal," Britt said, about a period when highs average from the mid-80s through mid August and the mid- to upper 70s through mid-September.

"Which is still summer time," he said.

Plus, "We're not seeing very much chances for rain over next week," though there is a slight chance today, Britt said.

Central Illinois Light Co. spokesman Neal Johnson said CILCO, the largest utility in this part of central Illinois, should breeze through the hot spell.

Board of Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain and soybean futures regained early today on the Chicago Board of Trade as beneficial weather increased chances farmers will harvest bumper crop this fall, at a time of slow world demand.

With the National Weather Service and private forecasters calling for cooler, wet weather to move into Midwest growing regions today and lasting through at least part of next week, chances of damage to corn and soybean crops are dimming.

Much of the nation's corn crop is well ahead of five-year averages for pollination, the most crucial growing period. With young plants escaping with no serious damaging heat in the major growing states of Illinois, Iowa and Indiana, yield estimates are high and the total harvest is on track to be the second-largest ever.

Soybeans also are entering their flowering period with little chance of damage, according to meteorologist forecasts for a cooler than normal August.

Wheat futures were pressured by a large winter wheat crop, weak export demand and reports that France's crop also will be large.

Wheat for December delivery fell 4 cents to $2.82 1/4 a bushel; December corn fell 2 1/4 cents to $1.25 1/4 a bushel; December oats fell 3/4 cent to $1.25 1/4 a bushel; November soybeans fell 8 1/4 cents to $5.57 a bushel.

Wall Street at noon

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks fell sharply for a second session today as the market grappled with disappointing profit news from Disney and Hewlett-Packard.

At noon on Wall Street, the Dow Jones industrial average was down 81.40 at 6,068.78, extending Tuesday's 105-point slide.

Hewlett-Packard, which warned late Tuesday that it won't meet Wall Street expectations for its current quarter, sank 2 to 55 1/4 as one of the Dow's bigger decliners along with fellow technology component IBM, down 2 1/4 at 125 1/4.

Disney was down 1/4 at 37 3/16 after coming in shy of analyst forecasts with late Tuesday's report on second-quarter profits.

Merck was down 3 9/16 at 125 1/4 after leading Tuesday's Dow decline with a 10-point slide triggered by the drugmaker's slightly disappointing second-quarter report and a warning about the rest of 1998.

The news from Merck and Hewlett-Packard has aggravated lingering worries about the impact of the fiscal crisis in Asia and an apparent slowdown in the domestic economy.

Hopes for a stimulative cut in interest rates by Federal Reserve have been dashed by this week's remarks by Alan Greenspan in the central bank chairman's midyear report to Congress.

Greenspan, making his second appearance before Congress in as many days, said the most likely outcome of the spillover from Asia is a welcome slowdown that will keep inflation in check and prolong the current economic expansion.

The Standard & Poor's 500 index was down 6.65 at 1,158.42, and the technology-heavy Nasdaq composite index was down 25.93 at 1,953.21.

Declining issues outnumbered advancers by a 5-to-2 margin on the New York Stock Exchange, where volume came to 330.91 million shares, up from Tuesday's early pace.

Police Beat

Employee of the month

A former Wal-Mart employee reportedly confessed to stealing $145 cash while on the job in addition to filching an assortment of relatively inexpensive merchandise.

Maurice Leseur, 30, of Arrington allegedly misappropriated such items as deodorant, a razor, sweatbands, a pocket knife, mulch, a weed-eater accessory, a garden hose, a pool and dog food.

According to police, the former Wal-Mart worker also stole "wheels" and a "blade," although further information regarding the purloined property was lacking.

Leseur grabbed the $145 cash, police said, from a store register.

Runaway run down

Police nabbed an unnamed runaway in a South McLean Street residence at 12:45 p.m. Tuesday.

Officers took the girl into custody at the county jail on a juvenile warrant.

An anonymous telephone tip reportedly put police on the runaway's trail and led to her capture in the 600 block of South McLean Street.

An Atlanta man faces domestic battery charges in connection with a 7:15 p.m. Tuesday incident at the Abraham Lincoln Memorial Hospital emergency room.

Alan Mattingly, 38, was arrested and taken to the county jail in connection with the alleged indiscretion.

County deputies reported the episode as occurring in the ALMH emergency room, but provided few other details.

He had not announced his findings by noon.

FAA examining options for St. Louis airport

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ST. LOUIS — The Federal Aviation Administration is examining three possible problems with the proposed expansion of Lambert Airport.

FAA officials will not discuss details of their review. But, Rep. Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., on Tuesday said the agency believes that two of the concerns, which bear upon the proposed configuration of a new runway, have been resolved and the third may be within a few days.

The FAA gave conditional approval to the so-called W-1W expansion plan in December after two environmental studies and months of public comment.

The agency must give its final approval before the airport proceeds with its $2.6 billion proposal, which would add a 9,000-foot runway southwest of the airport and require razing about 2,000 homes and businesses in Bridgeton.

Gephardt said that after speaking with FAA Administrator Jane Garvey Tuesday, he was optimistic about prospects for the expansion, which he favors.

A meeting was scheduled today in Gephardt's office with Garvey, St. Louis Mayor Clarence Harmon and Richard Fleming, head of the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association.

The FAA is now considering issues that were raised by the Air Line Pilots Association and by some air traffic controllers.

"St. Louis is far too big a market for just one runway," said union spokesman Bob Flocke. "We don't feel that configuration is going to provide the capacity that St. Louis needs, and secondly, probably more importantly, as it gets to that point that it's going to provide the safety."

Meanwhile, People Building Community, a coalition of opponents to the so-called W-1W expansion plan, have been buoyed by the latest developments in the FAA's review.

On Sunday, groups from St. Charles and Bridgeton held a rally at the airport, predicting the rejection of the expansion plan.

Friends said Newman feared the episode would ruin his career but it did not. He later said attorney Edward Bennett Williams told him at the time to stop worrying and that his book appraisal business would double as a result. "He was wrong," Newman said. "It tripled."

A Chicago native, Newman attended Northwestern University but left after one term to play

While walking through the Near North Side one day he spotted a bookstore that was going out of business and, obeying a sudden impulse, bought it.

Newman later was president of the Chicago Public Library board for more than a decade and was a co-founder of the Civil War Roundtables, a discussion group that now claims 300 chapters throughout the world.

Board of Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain and soybean futures edged lower early today on the Chicago Board of Trade, continuing a broad retreat brought on by prospects for bumper production at a time of weak world demand.

Futures prices have been pressured by near-ideal growing weather this summer in the Midwest, confounding some investors' expectations for blistering summer heat and dry weather that typically follows El Nino periods.

Moderate temperatures and ample rainfall have helped the crops mature more rapidly than normal, and most have gotten through the crucial growing period with little stress. The chances of yield losses from now on are far smaller.

With the U.S. Agriculture Department predicting a record soybean harvest and the second-largest corn crop in history, coupled with weak export demand, prices have fallen to contract lows.

Wheat for December delivery fell 1 cent to $2.67 1/4 a bushel; December corn fell 3/4 cent to $2.25 1/4 a bushel; December oats were unchanged at $1.19 1/2 a bushel; November soybeans fell 3/4 cent to $5.67 1/2 a bushel.

Meat and livestock futures were mostly lower on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange.

Americans' wages, benefits post increase for year

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — Growth in Americans' wages and benefits is slowly accelerating, rising 3.5 percent during the year ended in June — a figure well above inflation in consumer prices.

It was the biggest 12-month increase in 4 1/2 years and compares with 3.3 percent for the 12 months ended in March and 2.8 percent for the year finishing in June 1997, the Labor Department said today.

The report illustrated why Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan told Congress earlier this month that, despite the dampening impact on the United States of the Asian economic crisis, he continues to worry more about inflation than a recession.

He's concerned that strengthening compensation increases will pressure businesses into raising their prices faster.

So far though, price inflation has remained extraordinarily tame — running at around a 1.5 percent annual rate this year.

That means more than half of the compensation increase over the past year represented real, inflation-adjusted gains.

Separately, the Commerce Department said sales of new single-family jumped 3.8 percent to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 935,000.

It was the most since the government began tracking the sales in 1963 and the fourth new record in five months.

For lottery win

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WESTERVILLE, Ohio — What Sandy Jarrell wants most is a Harley, just like her husband's. And now what Sandy wants, Sandy can have.

With the money her husband has won in the Powerball lottery, the Jarrells can buy a matched set. If one's not enough, they can get another ... and another ... and another ... and another ...

Sandy's husband, John, is one of 13 co-workers who won the record $295.7 million jackpot Wednesday night.

The winners, who nicknamed themselves "the Lucky 13," work at Automation Tooling Systems in this Columbus suburb. They bought 130 tickets — spending $10 apiece — at a gasoline station in Richmond, Ind., about 100 miles away.

Each will get $12.42 million before taxes, their lawyer said.

"It took a long time to believe we actually hit it," Jarrell said Thursday. "You go from totally excited to scared to death."

The jackpot was worth $295.7 million in payments over 25 years. But the winners, all men, took the cash option — one payment of about $161.5 million.

The Lucky 13 won't officially be the winners until the Indiana lottery office validates the ticket. That's expected within the next week.

The Jarrells, both wearing black Harley Davidson apparel, told reporters gathered on the

Wall Street at noon
NEW YORK (AP) — The Dow Industrials were straddling the 8,000 mark at midday, falling to follow up Thursday gains that lifted the index nearly 112 points.

At 11 a.m. on Wall Street, the Dow Jones Industrial average was down 22.36 at 8004.56 after dipping below 8,000 in morning trading. The blue-chip index has hovered around the 8,000 mark for the past week, with modest daily gains and losses that have failed to sustain their momentum.

Some of today's weakness came from a new report from the Commerce Department showing a slowdown in the U.S. economy's production of goods and services as a result of lost trade to Asia and a prolonged strike at General Motors Corp.

The gross domestic product — the sum of goods and services produced within U.S. borders — increased at a modest 1.4 percent annual rate in the April-June quarter, down from 5.5 percent rate during the first three months of the year.

Investors worry that a slowing U.S. economy and continued troubles in Asia will cut into corporate profit growth in coming months. Declining issues outnumbered advances by about a 7-to-4 margin on the New York Stock Exchange, where volume came to 274.79 million shares, down from Thursday's midday pace.

Procter & Gamble was the Dow's biggest loser, down 3 3/8 at 80 1/4, while IBM was the biggest gainer, up 3 1/16 at 136 7/16. The Standard & Poor's 500 index was down 7.17 at 1,135.68, and the technology-heavy Nasdaq composite index was down 9.57 at 1,910.05.

The NYSE composite index was down 2.77 at 572.49, and the American Stock Exchange composite index was down 2.32 at 711.15.
